3. Library2Go video titles can be downloaded to compatible device using Windows, Windows Mobile, and Firefox.

Library2Go video titles are available in 'Standard' and 'Mobile' versions. 'Standard' video is encoded at 650Kbps. 'Mobile' video is encoded at 500Kbps and is optimized for viewing on portable devices. One hour of 'Standard' video is approximately equal to 300MB of disk space, while one hour of 'Mobile' video is approximately equal to 200MB.

View a list of compatible portable devices here:
www.overdrive.com/resources/drc

Some of the OverDrive Video titles say 'Public performance permitted'. What does this mean? As defined by the Copyright Act (Title 17, U.S.C., Copyrights, Section 101, Definitions), a performance is considered 'public' when the work is performed in a 'place open to the public or at a place where a substantial number of persons outside of a normal circle of family and its social acquaintances are gathered.' If a title at this site is marked with the designation 'public performance permitted,' this means that the title may be used in a public setting, such as a classroom or a library story hour.

How much free disk space do I need to have in order to transfer videos to a portable device? The amount of free space needed depends on the length of the OverDrive Video title. One hour of mobile video is approximately equal to 200MB. Note that if you are using OverDrive Media Console v2.1 (or newer), the Transfer Wizard will alert you if you do not have enough storage space on your device to accommodate the files that you are attempting to transfer.
