Collection Development & Requests for Reconsideration Policies

What we'll cover in this section

- Intellectual Freedom
- Deschutes Public Library's story
- Roseburg School District's story
- Impact to the Community
- Book Challenges
- Library Bill of Rights & First Amendment
- Collection Development policy
- Requests for Reconsideration policies

What is Intellectual Freedom?

- Freedom to hold, receive, and disseminate ideas without restriction.
- Protects an individual's right to access, explore, and express ideas and information.
- Basis for a self-governing, well-informed citizenry.
- Integral to a democratic society.

Why does it matter?

Deschutes Public Library's story

Roseburg School District's story

Impact to the Community

“Quiet, or soft censorship, can be defined as not purchasing materials because of personal reservations, rather than a professional evaluation of the need for them. It is not purchasing materials, weeding, or restricting access as a way to avoid controversy.”

--Judy Ehrenstien

What is at risk

- Fear guides decisions
- Lack of diversity
- Fewer inclusive titles
- Fewer publishers taking on material that might be challenged
- Authors altering their lens
- Library patrons suffer

Avoid Censorship.

Avoid Lawsuits.

Current Events:

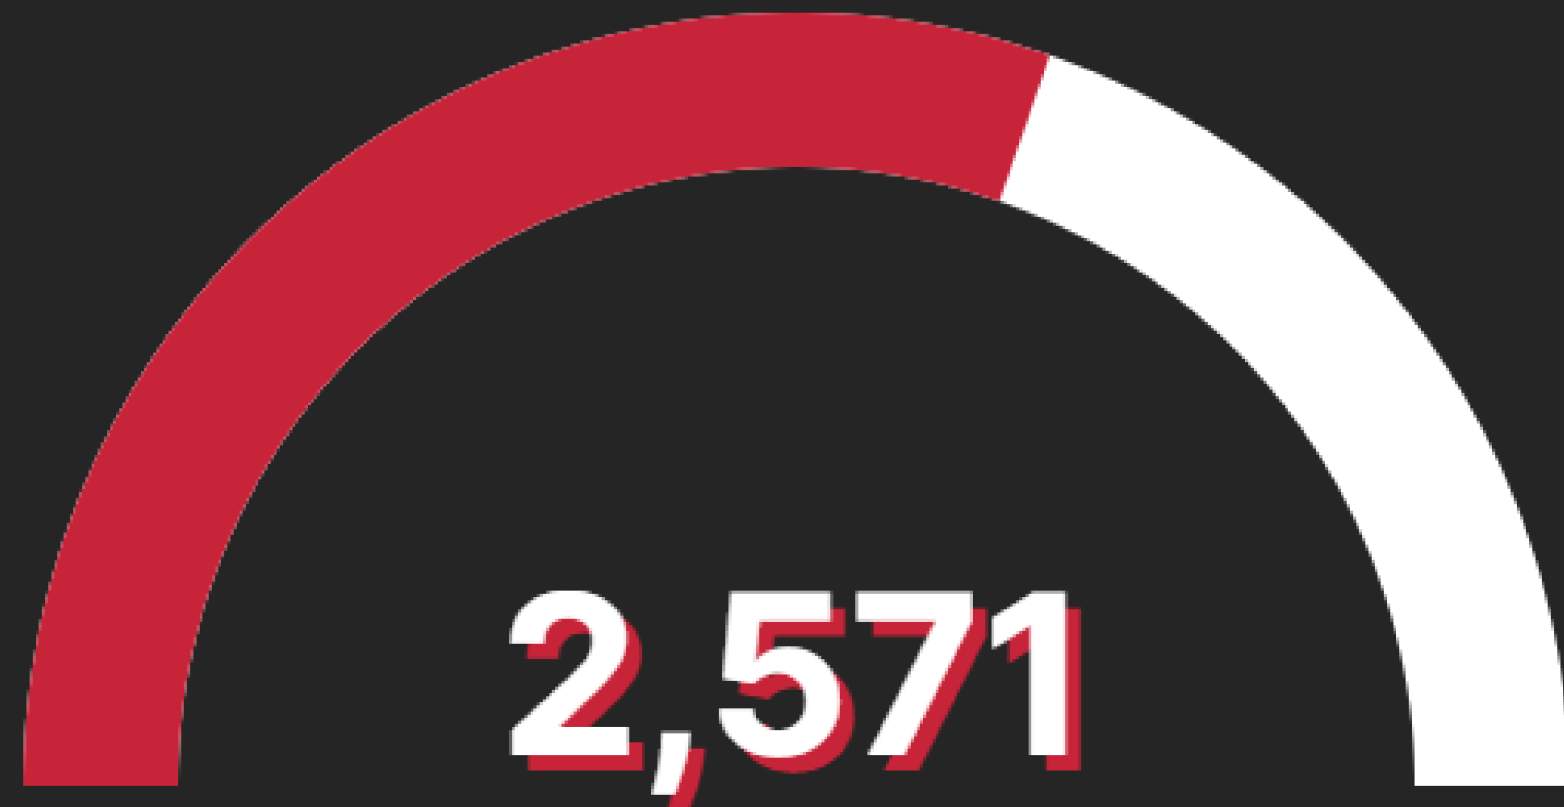

Can you name any recent incidents of censorship or book banning?

- In your area or neighboring areas?
- In Oregon (in general)?
- In other areas of the United States?
- Quick question: which state has the most book bans?

United Against Book Bans 2023 data

A record 4,240 unique book titles were targeted for censorship in 2023, a 65% increase over the 2,571 unique titles targeted in 2022 and a staggering 128% increase over 2021 numbers.

47% of the books targeted for censorship were titles representing the voices and lived experiences of LGBTQIA+ and BIPOC individuals.

Library Bill of Rights

- Materials provided to all
- Materials represent all points of view
- Challenge censorship
- Open to all people
- Meeting rooms and exhibit spaces available to all, equally
- Privacy and confidentiality of patron information

Aren't there some kinds of expression that really should be censored?

Restrictions based on the First Amendment

- Obscenity (Miller Test)
- Child Pornography
- Defamation / slander
- “Fighting words”
- National Security
- False advertising

Purpose of a Collection Development Policy

- Process of systematically building the collection of a particular library.
- Defines the objective standards regarding what and how to acquire for the library.

Let's look at examples.

Example: Deschutes Public Library

Within CD Policy:

Deschutes Public Library supports the undeniable right of all individuals to access information that represents a full range of ideas, opinions, concepts, topics, and thoughts, regardless of that individual's background including but not limited to the federal protected classes: race, color, religion, sex (including pregnancy, sexual orientation, and/or gender identity), national origin, age, disability, and genetic information.

Within Reconsideration Process:

Materials will not be excluded because of the origin, background, or views of those contributing to their creation. Creators or content by or about Federal protected classes: race, color, religion, sex (including pregnancy, sexual orientation, and/or gender identity), national origin, age, disability, and genetic information will be protected in accordance with state and national anti-discrimination laws.

Example: Deschutes Public Library

Each type of material and/or format will be considered in terms of its own merit and intended audience. Individual items shall be judged as whole works and not solely based on random or selected parts. All selections, whether purchases, monetary donations, or physical gifts, must meet applicable criteria from the following:

1. Relationship to interests of the community.
2. Lasting value.
3. Vitality and originality of thought.
4. Content by or about historically marginalized groups or communities.
5. Contemporary significance.
6. Artistic excellence.
7. Entertaining presentation.
8. Scientific significance and objectivity.
9. Suitability and currency of format for library use.
10. Relationship to existing library materials to maintain balanced collections.
11. Value for the expenditure.
12. Availability of space.

RESPONSIBILITY FOR SELECTION

Ultimate responsibility for materials selection rests with the Library Director, who administers procedures designed to achieve the results directed by the Library Board's policies. The Library Director may delegate authority to interpret and guide the application of this administrative rule in making decisions relevant to managing the collections.

Example: Roseburg School District

It is the responsibility of all libraries to serve every member of their designated communities. It is not the responsibility of a library to promote one point of view over another. Materials collected will represent majority as well as minority beliefs.

Selection Criteria:

Items selected will:

- Represent differing viewpoints on controversial issues.
- Provide a global perspective and promote diversity by including materials by authors and illustrators of all cultures.
- Include a variety of resources in physical and virtual formats including print and non-print such as electronic and multimedia (including subscription academic databases, eBooks, and other forms of emerging technology).
- Incorporate accurate and factual information from authoritative sources.
- Promote diversity in items offered in: subject area, age, emotional development, ability level, access, learning styles, social, emotional, and intellectual development.
- Researched for favorable reviews from diverse perspectives, favorable recommendations, award winners and nominees, and titles popular for school population.
- Reflect students' personal interests and learning.
- Evolve as the student population changes in needs and trends.

Responsibility for Selection:

- Responsibility for selection rests with professionally trained library personnel using the established Selection Criteria (see below).
- Educators, students, administrators, and others may participate by making recommendations or requests. However, final responsibility for the selection decisions rests with school library professionals.

Definitions: Request for Reconsideration of Library Materials [Process]

Request for Reconsideration:

- A part of the Collection Development Policy that describes the process for reconsideration of a title.
- Describes how to ask for a review of a title
- Often called a “challenge” form or process
- A step by step process / procedure for responding to requests for reconsideration.
- Often include:
 - Rules for who can submit forms
 - Describes a systematic process for review
 - Assigns final responsibility for decisions
 - Describes an appeal process

Example: Roseburg School District

Material Reconsideration:

- Complainants must have read (or viewed, in the case of visual media) the entire work to which they object.
- A questioned item will be considered in its entirety, not judged solely on portions taken out of context.
- Only one Formal Reconsideration Form will suffice for review. Multiples, or those issued as part of an organized campaign or group, are not necessary. The first Formal Reconsideration Form filed by date will be considered the Primary Complainant.
- Lists of books will not be considered for review.
- When library resources are reconsidered, the principles of the freedom to read, listen, and view are defended rather than specific materials.
- Parents or guardians have the right to guide the reading, viewing, and listening of their children but must give the same right to other parents/guardians. Parents must use the Formal Request for Parental Restrictions Placed on Library Accounts and deliver to the school office or library.

Reconsideration Process:

- The Reconsideration Committee will remain anonymous and include teachers, administrators, school specialists, a parent, and, at the high school level, a student aged 17 or older.
- The librarian will provide the reviewing committee with a short Intellectual Freedom training that explains the the Selection Process, the Reconsideration Process, the Formal Request for Parental Restrictions Placed on Library Accounts, the Library Bill of Rights, and the Freedom to Read Statement of the American Library Association.
- The training will also include a list of awards or accolades the material has received, a selection of reviews, and/or any applicable matter to assist in research.
- The committee's written decision shall be final and presented to the Primary Complainant and the superintendent within five days after a decision has been made by a site administrator.
- The committee will annually review any item selected for removal to determine if the original directive for removal continues to be warranted.

Example: Roseburg School District Parental Restrictions Placed on Library Accounts

Individuals submitting requests must sign and confirm that they understand:

- That every effort will be made to honor this request for student library account restriction(s).
- Human opinion is subjective and what may be considered offensive by one person may not necessarily be considered offensive by another.
- Library and school staff will not be held responsible for any unknown, or unforeseeable, projected offense a reader may encounter.
- Library and school staff cannot honor requests that appear to be based on prejudice of an individual, group of individuals, religion, or any exclusion that would violate state law.
- That every library patron has the right to stop reading, and return, any library material, for any reason, at any time.

Purpose of a Request for Reconsideration Policy

- Describes the process for reconsideration of a title.
- Describes how to ask for a review.
- Includes the step-by-step process for responding to requests for reconsideration.

Green flags in OSBA policy

- Something is better than nothing
- Must be in writing.
- Timeline.
- Rotating terms.

Red flags is OSBA policy

- Does not mention libraries.
- Last updated in 2017.
- Lengthy and complicated.
- Override is problematic.

Sample Request for Reconsideration forms

Updates we recommend for a Reconsideration Process.

- Establish criteria to be eligible to file a complaint (“Injury in fact”, causation, and redressability).
- Establish reasonable scope (how many at a time?).
- Establish reasonable jeopardy protection to avoid retrials and harassment.

Sample Eligibility Statement

Persons wishing to request a review of library materials must adhere to the following:

1. The individual must be a registered library resident cardholder.
2. Groups or organizations may not submit a request.
3. Each form can only be used for a single title at a time.
4. A maximum of one request per month per person.
5. Materials reviewed and retained are not eligible for reconsideration for 3 years.

Sample Miller Test clause

Did you read/view/listen to the entire material? Yes No

IF NO, what percentage did you read/view?

Only the passages/sections in question Less than 25%

about 50% About 75% More than 75%

Sample Demonstrable Harm

Do you believe this material violates library collection development policy or federal, state, or local statute?

Yes No Unsure

IF YES, please cite the specific policy element or statute.

How has reading or viewing this material caused you, or one of your children, personal or financial harm?

Sample Causation / self-selection statement

What prompted you to look at and/or borrow the material from the library?

Do you attest that you read/viewed/or listened to this material voluntarily and not due to coercion from library staff?

Yes No

IF NO, please describe.

Sample Public Records Acknowledgement

BY SIGNING, I ATTEST that I am the petitioner and the responses provided above are true as I verily believe. I understand that

- Anonymous or unsigned requests will not be considered.
- Upon submission, this form is a public record and my name may be disclosed.
- The library will keep contact information confidential from the general public to the greatest extent allowed by law.
